Meetup.com can be used for more than finding meet-ups. Find companies.

The screenshot shows the Meetup.com homepage. At the top, a blue banner contains a personalized greeting: "Hey Lia," followed by the text "There are 133,290 Meetups happening this week about everything from careers to hiking, parenting, tech, photography and urban gardening ...". To the right of the banner are two circular statistics: "14 Meetups in your groups" and "162 Meetups nearby". Below the banner is a dark navigation bar with a search bar containing "Ruby" and a magnifying glass icon, followed by the text "within 25 miles of Chicago, IL". To the right of the search bar are two buttons: "Groups" and "Calendar". Below the navigation bar is a grid of category filters. The first column lists "All Meetups" (with an infinity icon), "Meetups with friends" (with a group of people icon), and several other categories. The other three columns list various interest-based categories.
